Investing involves risks, including the possible loss of principal. ETF shares are bought and sold on an exchange at market prices rather than NAV and may trade at a premium or discount to NAV. Investors may pay more than NAV when buying shares and receive less than NAV when selling shares. Brokerage commissions and other trading costs may reduce returns. Shares of the ETFs are not redeemable with the ETF other than in creation unit aggregations. There can be no assurance that an active trading market for the ETF's shares will develop or be maintained.

Equity securities may decline in value due to both real and perceived general market, economic, and industry conditions. Investing in foreign denominated and/or domiciled securities may involve heightened risk due to currency fluctuations, and economic and political risks. These risks may be enhanced in emerging markets. Investing in the bond market is subject to certain risks including market, interest rate, issuer, credit, and inflation risk.
